

SHRM Tulsa provides this Privacy Policy to outline how we collect, use, share, and process information collected through this website. We may update this policy periodically. Changes will be posted on this page with a new effective date.

What information is collected?

When you visit shrmtulsa.org, personal identifiable information is not collected without your knowledge. Anonymous information is collected, such as time and length of your visit, the pages visited, the referral site, and name of your internet service provider and browser. This information is used to measure site activity and develop improvements to our website and your user experience.

There are also several opportunities for members and website visitors to provide non-sensitive personal information, for example your name, email address, phone number, and professional affiliations, in order to build a relationship with SHRM Tulsa. This information may be collected through forms, surveys, meeting registrations, and purchases. If you choose to share any personal information, we may store and use it for marketing purposes, which may include sharing it with other business partners (SHRM). Any information shared with business partners is shared only under contractual agreements that include protections for the use and disclosure of your personal information. SHRM Tulsa will not sell your personal information. If you wish to be removed from our contact database, please submit your request using our Contact Form.

If you create an account or log in as a member, we may collect additional information such as membership status, event attendance history, and preferences. We retain your personal information only for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes outlined in this policy or as required by law.

How is your information protected?

SHRM Tulsa employs various methods to protect your personal information. Submitted information is transferred using industry standard encryption. SHRM Tulsa's leadership and other designated administrative users have access to your personal information for the purpose of managing the organization. Financial information, including credit card numbers, is collected and transferred, but not stored within the website. You may request correction of or deletion of your personal information at any time.

Do we use cookies?

The SHRM Tulsa website uses cookies, small files saved to your web browser, to improve your user experience. Cookies can be disabled within your browser. Cookies may be used to measure website activity and to customize the website to your preferences. When you return to shrmtulsa.org, information can be tailored to improve your user experience.

Third-Party Links

SHRM Tulsa may reference or refer you to other websites. Please review each third-party website for their individual privacy policies. SHRM Tulsa cannot take responsibility for how third-party websites collect and use activity and personal information.
